Next steps/need for action

Differing transition deadlines for licensing and registration obligations

With the necessary institutional bodies having been authorised by FINMA, portfolio managers, trustees and independent client advisers must now ensure that they fulfil their licensing and registration obligations in time. The deadlines for implementing FinIA and FinSA differ depending on the financial services provider's activity.

Portfolio managers and trustees

Portfolio managers and trustees must apply for a licence from FINMA by the end of 2022, which includes proving that they are affiliated to an SO. They may continue to operate until a licensing decision has been made, provided they are also affiliated to a self-regulatory organisation. Portfolio managers and trustees who commence operations in 2020 must register with FINMA immediately. They must be affiliated to an SO by 6 July 2021 at the latest and submit a licence application.

Client advisers

Client advisers of financial service providers not subject to prudential supervision must register with one of the authorised registration bodies by 20 January 2021.

Ombudsman's offices

With respect to legal clarification regarding the limitation on the ombudsman's affiliation requirement for financial service providers serving institutional and professional clients only, please see our separate Legal Update on this topic.

Prospectus

From 2 December 2020, a prospectus must be published prior to making a public offer for the purchase of securities or prior to the admission of securities for trading on an exchange. The prospectus must have been approved by one of the reviewing bodies authorised by FINMA.
